Dear Mr. Dulles:

There will shortly be distributed to the responsible Departments and Agencies a report on "Psychological Aspects of U. S. Strategy." This report has been produced by a panel convened by Special Assistant to the President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

As Chairman of that panel, and on behalf of all its members, permit me to express my deep appreciation for the considerable support provided by officials of your Agency. By joining informally in our discussions and briefing us as to aspects of problems particularly pressing, they have materially contributed to the completion of our task. I trust the results will be of some real benefit.

Respectfully,

Frederick L. Anderson
